WHY BRAZIL

Brazil is the fifth-largest country in the world with a population of around 185 million people. It has one of the world's most rapidly developing economies and a GDP per head greater than either India or China. The value of Scottish exports in the last year totalled £180m.

The World Bank has forecast that Brazil will achieve 4.5% GDP growth for 2011.

Brazil is set to host the next World Cup in 2014 and the Summer Olympics in 2016; it is therefore a key time to explore sporting opportunities and potential partnerships between Scotland and Brazil. In June 2011, the Trade and Investment Minister Lord Green announced a commitment to doubling exports with Brazil by 2015

This will be SCDI's 7th visit to Brazil.

WHY RIO DE JANEIRO

Rio is the second-largest city in Brazil. Aside from tourism, Rio has a vibrant business district and is home to the dominant oil and gas industry and many of Brazil's largest companies and many multi-nationals. Sectors of interest to Scottish businesses include: oil and gas, power and renewable energies, life sciences (and related biotechnology), mining, infrastructure and sports infrastructure.

WHY SAO PAULO

With a population of nearly 20million, the city of São Paulo is one of the largest metropolitan areas in world and the recognised business centre of Brazil.

The interior of São Paulo state is also a very rich industrial and agricultural region, accounting for 25 per cent of the nation's industrial production. Other sectors of interest for the city include education and training, creative and media industries, food and drink, ICT and software, security, aerospace, automotive, engineering, environment, water and construction.

KEY SECTORS

There are exciting opportunities in various sectors for Scottish companies, including in automotive components, electronic, machinery, food and drink and chemicals.

Whisky exports confirm that this emerging market is of interest to Scottish companies, with more than 41million bottles shipped to Brazil in 2009. There are also significant opportunities in the oil and gas sector in Brazil. The local oil and gas companies recognise that they need to attract international expertise to develop their business further.
